Intracuticals Infusion

Intracuticals Infusions, the Australian based skincare line known for refining the skin of its esteemed celebrity clientele now introduces premiere oxygen infusions, inhalations and skincare products for the beauty conscious Indian.

At the launch, Collen Chan, Regional Director, Asia & Middle East stated, "Intracuticals Oxygen Infusion Therapy is the first ever non-invasive treatment breakthrough to address fine lines, wrinkles and overall hydration. After establishing our presence in over three thousand clinics world-wide we are now pleased to extend our reach in India." The company presently has six clinics in the cities of Mumbai, New Delhi and Bangalore and plan to expand to 50 clinics in all major and mini metros by mid-2013.

Established in Melbourne, Australia in 2002 Intracuticals is the first and only professional skin care company to apply pressurised, therapeutic-grade oxygen, in addition to targeted serums directly to the skin—and with this unique technology, provide a never-before-seen level of results. With continued use, Intracuticals Infusions delivers dramatic and deeper changes.
