NON SURGICAL FACELIFTS: ATOXELENE INFUSION AT INTRACEUTICALS

Posted 26th July, 2011

Yesterday I visited Purple PR's press day and was blown away by a treatment called Atoxelene Infusion by Intraceuticals. Skin Specialist Sharon Oldman who is their sales and education manager tested the unique Atoxelene Serum on half of my face, so that I could see the result...

The results were amazing, my skin looked and felt plump, refreshed and hydrated. Not only that but my laughter lines had disappeared on one side and one of my brows was a few millimeters higher than the other...

For maximum benefit you're advised to have weekly treatments for up to 6 weeks then maintain by treating your skin every 4 to 6 weeks.

Expression lines become smoother, firmer and visibly reduced, eye contour more defined and lips plumped. Celebrities such as Madonna, D&V Beckham, Justin Timberlake have all been swept away by its brilliance and I can certainly see why.
