

Beauty News L.A Intraceuticals Oxygen Therapy Facial: Go Ahead, Party Like A Rockstar

By Anthony Deane

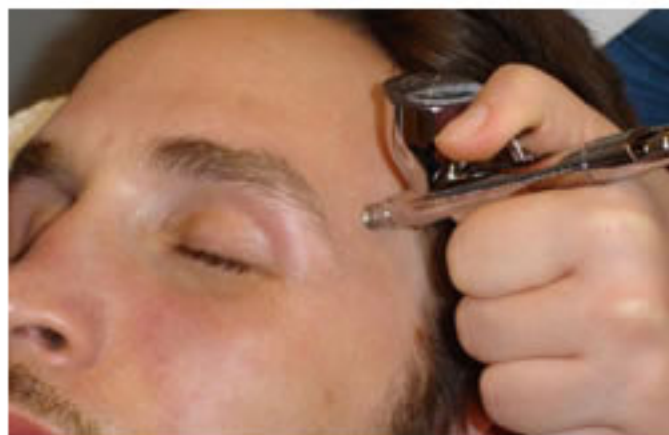

As everybody knows there are pro's and con's to the Los Angeles lifestyle. One benefit is the endless supply of dry sunny days, and one of the drawbacks is the endless supply of dry sunny days, add your rockstar social schedule with a pinch of work (let's be honest), mix it all together...take a sip...and watch the ageing begin. Luckily for guys, the Metrosexual revolution is in full swing and facials aren't just for the ladies anymore. Deep in the heart of the treacherous beauty battle zone called Beverly Hills lies the ultra swanky Anastasia Salon on Bedford Drive, which has just unleashed the new "Topical Hyperbaric Oxygen Therapy Facial". I cannot lie... it would be a lot easier to write this piece if I could stop staring at myself in the mirror in awe at how good my skin looks after only one session.

The wonderful staff at the Anastasia Salon was trained by the celebrity skin Svengali, Michelle Peck, who is Madonna's personal faci-A-list. Madonna is so hooked she keeps an oxygen machine in each of her modest homes.

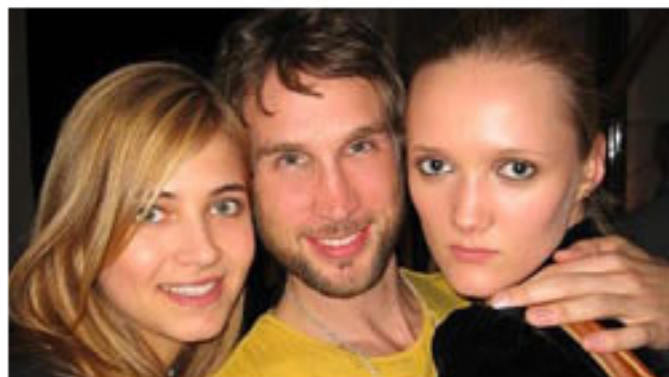

Unlike some facials that include the joy of peels and burning, the O2 Intraceutical Treatment feels great and immediately left my skin looking...well...A-list. The facial was administered topically through what looks like an airbrush, first spraying the rejuvenation serum into the lines and creases of my face, and then followed by a stream of oxygen in and around the lines, filling them out, and leaving my face looking years younger.

And the best part of it, other than having hot chicks working on me, is I had no signs of redness or of being poked or prodded, I was ready to roll like the gangsta I think I am...no need to hide out with my Sony Playstation for 2 days. Now I see why all the girls are in a tizzy over this wonder treatment...but why should they get to have all the wrinkle free fun?

In the land of milk, honey and botox, which we have come to accept as part of the LA female anatomy, botox for boys still ain't kosher for Passover. As a man I insist my smile be able to reach full climax! So run don't walk to get your fix of oxygen and your chance to cheat mother time. Michelle and others see cosmetic surgery procedures potentially decreasing over the next 10 years, in fact I withdrew my Swan application minutes after my facial
