

TIMBERLAKE'S SMOOTH SKIN MOVES

Justified: Out of the bathroom and into the Salon. June '06

Men become regulars at beauty salons.

Justin Timberlake is a southern gentleman with a modern twist. He's also one of the most envied men on the planet with the world at his feet. He has the talent, the career, the success, the looks, the surfing holidays and to top it off one of the most beautiful women in the world on his arm.

Despite the constant hounding of his glamorous, active life Timberlake has found a solution to keeping his skin rejuvenated and at its best. O2 Intraceuticals Infusion™.

'Years of touring, flying and TV make-up take their toll on your skin. O2 Intraceuticals Infusion™ gives my skin its best chance to regenerate and breath so I can look and feel my best.' says Timberlake.

The 'soap and water' approach to skin care for men has long been a thing of the past. Grooming regimes for men have extended beyond the bathroom and into the salon. The damage and irritation of shaving, along with the consequence of an active lifestyle like Justin's are no longer issues men endure.

O2 Intraceuticals Infusion™ is a 30 minute, painless, non-evasive treatment enabling you to walk out of the salon looking good and feeling great immediately.

Purchased only through beauticians, the treatment improves skin tone, reduces the appearance of fine lines and provides an instant firming and lift. The results speak for themselves.
